Ant Clarke will be a guest trainer for us in November. Numbers are dwindling at the Thursday club night and so the committee is looking at another assessment course for those on the club's waiting list.

The annual club match against Andover will occur again this year, watch out for the away match in Dec and the home match early next year.

Ian has organised a weave workshop on the 4th Nov with Ant Clarke. Fee, subsidised by the club will be not more than £10. Details at club night.

We will be having a group Competition night on the 11th October. There will be a whole club competition arranged in March.

New club timing kit has been ordered, hopefully we will see this for the competition night in March if not before.

Christmas

Christmas Party on the 20th Dec.

Arrangements for Christmas break this year. No training 27th Dec and the 3rd Jan.

We will be purchasing tools needed for Club nights such as extra drill batteries, a foot pump for pumping up the trolley wheels, a Solar light for the container, a set of screw in pegs. Please let any committee members know if we needed any other equipment.

Juniors had a good weekend at Newbury Show, winning a trophy. They are off to teams at Chippenham in October.

A word from the editor

It is very tempting to be doom and gloom at this time of year, the nights are getting darker, it is getting colder, the outdoor shows are nearly all done.

I always enjoy September, the weather is usually better than the “summer”, and I get a birthday, but we finished our last camping trip soaked through and then unpacked the caravan last weekend, and I was a bit sad.

Then I started to think about the winter training, we booked a couple of training days and talks, and started to make a plan for training Basil's contacts this winter. I can't call it re-training as he never really knew them properly!

There are lots of things to look forward to – I always love our friendly matches against Andover and I was delighted to hear we would be taking part in those again. For the first time I am planning to visit the Olympia finals to cheer on Gill and Shade, and I know lots of other club members will be there too.

KC Novice Olympia Semi Final at Stoneleigh
Sunday 2nd September 2012

THE KENNEL CLUB

Shade and I qualified for the Semi Finals at the penultimate event at the Agility Club show in 3rd place after an exciting round where we nearly went wrong after jump 2! I had been to Stoneleigh before when Richard and Jenny were young enough to do Juniors but never competed myself.

We arrived with plenty of time to spare, booked in, exercised Shade and walked the warm-up course. Dave Ray gave an introduction and the judge, Arthur Rodgers, did his briefing. There were quite a few people in the semis for the first time but a lot of well known handlers including Dave Munnings and Toni Dawkins.

There were 42 competitors and my running order was 23 in the warm up so I was able to watch some rounds. I was really nervous and stuttered round this course with 5 faults after I managed to call Shade off the dog walk. (I was trying to straighten her up but my command was way too late!) Shade just treated it like any agility round!

After the warm up the course was immediately changed for the semi final. It looked like a good novice course with lots of handling options. 18 dogs from the 42 in this semi-final would go through to participate at Olympia. The main aim was not to get eliminated. The first few rounds produced what seemed like a lot of clears.

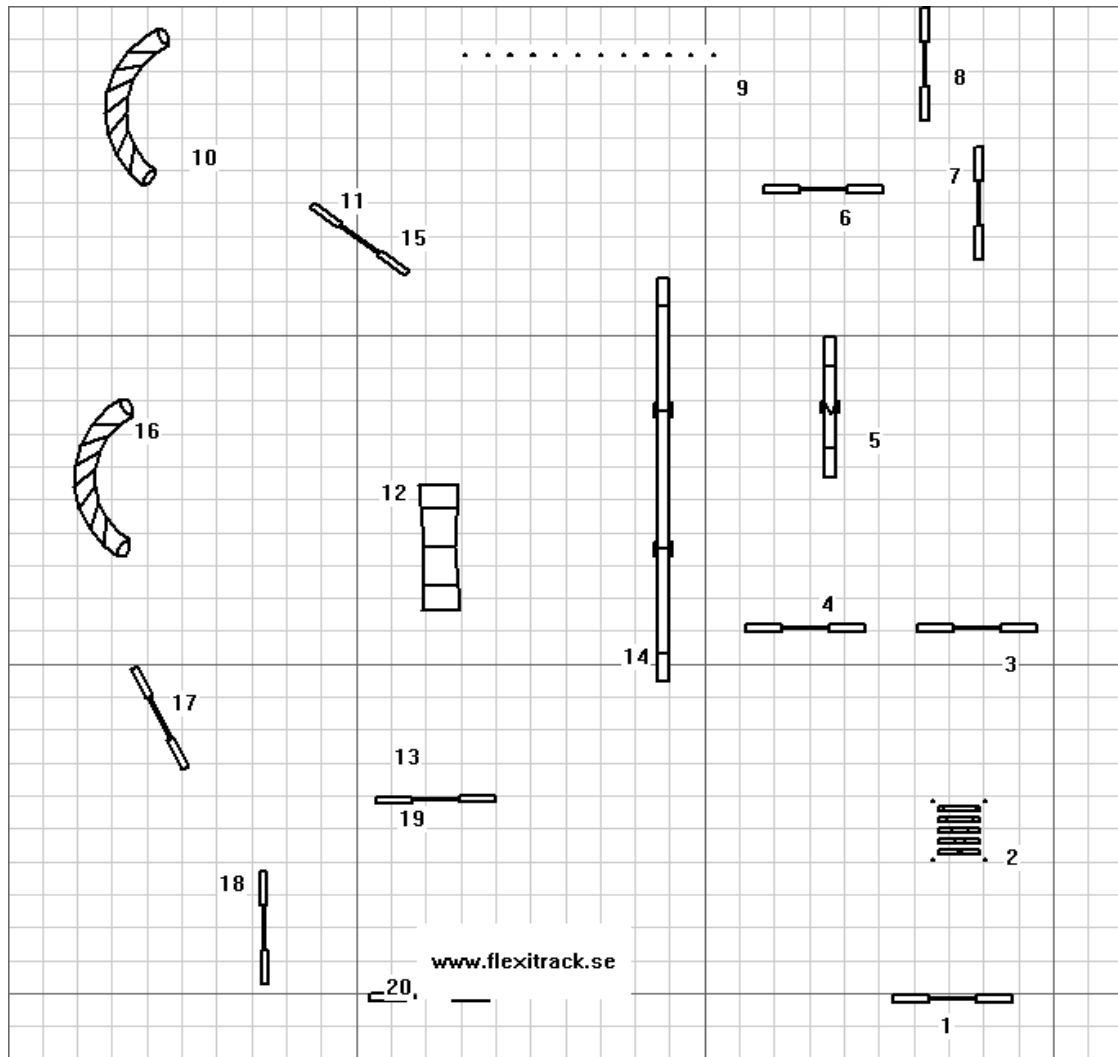

My running order was 33. I had walked and walked the course deciding my handling options. We were on the line – and then it was over. We finished with 5 faults (up on the dog walk) and then had to wait for the last 9 dogs to run to see if it was good enough! We finished 14th out of the 18 to qualify! Here's a link to the run on Youtube if you want to compare our run to the analysis <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YgQppCDX5Rg>.

My course analysis and handling decisions

The course layout below is as close as I can remember it:

I decided to lead out to between 2 and 3. This was so I could be in place to slow Shade for 3 to 4. I went for the front cross between 3 and 4 to pull round the right hand wing of 4 – I considered this to be the safer option although the dog walk was quite close there would be more chance of back jumping coming through the gap. I called her in and straightened for the seesaw. I did not pick her up on my right and rear cross the seesaw to avoid any chance of pulling her off. I picked up after 6 and turned Shade round 7 and 8 on my right. I did not want to work 7 to 8 from behind to avoid pulling off 7. The weaves were no problem.

The tunnel entrance after the weaves looks like the wrong end. As the dog comes out of the weaves they should actually be facing the required entry. By keeping wide at the weaves I was able to stop Shade looking at the wrong end. You can see in the still photo (right) that Shade is looking towards me and not to the closest tunnel entry.

Some people did successful front crosses at the end of the weaves. I did not do this because if executed too slowly it shows the wrong end of the tunnel or when turning back for the correct entrance there was a chance of pushing over 11.

I was in place to pick up out of the tunnel and push and jump 11 at an angle for a straight line to the A-frame (below). Then jump onto dog walk where we were given 5 faults for missing the up but a great down contact. Dog walk, jump, tunnel was fairly straight forward although there was always the possibility of the off course tunnel!

I had to make sure I stopped to catch Shade as she came out of the tunnel to turn over 17, then a call to pull off the last jump (where a few dogs were eliminated).

I did not do a front cross for 18 to 19, racing to get in the 'box' as I felt this could push the dog over the final jump, turning Shade towards me was the safer option for us. This paid off and we finished with just the 5 faults!
